OFFICE OF SECURITY

Introductory Statement

The scope of the Office of Security responsibility is global and includes the responsibility of safeguarding Agency assets of all kinds whether they be personnel or material. It also includes the investigation, clearance or disapproval of personnel, or business entities which the Agency desires to employ or in which the Agency has or wishes to acquire an interest. This is a continuation of previous Office of Security policies and responsibilities and no material change has occurred during the past year.

The breakthrough in the Technical Surveillance Countermeasures program has been of vital interest to the entire intelligence community. It will be necessary to expand our operations in Fiscal Years 1961 and 1962 in order to exploit the full potentials of this activity.

The Physical Security problems inherent in the construction of the New Headquarters Building will be greatly increased in Fiscal Year 1961 and the first half of Fiscal Year 1962. Also, heavy requirements will be levied on the Office of Security in Fiscal Year 1962 in order that the movement of Agency material to the new quarters may be accomplished with maximum security.

The heavy workload requirements in the investigative and support areas have continued to expand during Fiscal Year 1960 and no abatement is anticipated in the foreseeable future.

Every effort has been made and will continue to be made to streamline operations in order to be able to perform efficiently the ever increasing requirements levied on the Office of Security without increase in personnel.
